Bernie Leigh replaced David Ashby as Swindon's number two. Trevor Geer replaced Norman Hunter as Swindon's number five.

This meeting was originally scheduled to be a Gulf British League match, but was changed due to Tommy Jansson's tragic death, on 20 May. As a mark of respect to Tommy Jansson, Wimbledon stopped using the number one race number for the remainder, of the season, and I will now do likewise.

Booby Beaton broke down on route to the stadium and didn't arrive in time for the start of the meeting.

This was former Dons legend Barry Briggs last ever competitive meeting, at Plough Lane.

Brendan Shilleto rode for Hull, and this made the unusual feat, of him having ridden, for and against Wimbledon, in Gulf British League matches, during the 1976 season.

The Wimbledon programme, for this meeting was printed without any colour on the front cover due to a printing error.

Stefan Salomonsson failed to arrive, at Hackney.

This was a double header meeting, with Hackney racing against White City, in the London Cup.

The London Cup was raced on a league basis, at Hackney. As Hackney rode, in two meetings their scores were halved.

The London Cup league table finished in this order. Wimbledon 49 pts, White City 36 pts, Hackney 35½ pts. Thus making Wimbledon the London Cup Champions.
