Special Thanks

To Allen Trump for acquiring pre-war programmes specially to add details to these files. Allen did this at his own personal expense over 14 years. A fantastic contribution.

Acknowledgments

I should like to thank the following for their encouragement and practical help with my Speedway Pre-War research.

Roger Beaman, Nigel Bird, George Carswell, Brian Collins, Keith Green, Jim Henry, Matt Jackson, Peter Jackson, Alan Jones, John Somerville and Mike Terran.

Also all the contributors to the team files section of this website

Hackney struggled without Dick Case, injured in the Belle Vue Test two days before and ordered to rest. Unfortunately it was Fred Tate who caused Wally Lloyd to fall in heat 9 and Wally injured his thumb, scoring no more points. Fred redeemed himself however by brilliantly overtaking Norman Parker on the last bend of the last heat to win.

This was described as "one of the best 18 heat encounters ever played". Tom Farnndon cut 1.2 seconds off the track record in heat 2. Ron Johnson lost most of a lap when he fell on the first lap of heat 10. His pursuit of Bob Harrison was remarkable and it was felt that his flying lap times must have been at record pace. He actually got past Bob. Ron won a close duel with Eric Langton in heat 1 and a tough contest with Joe Abbott in heat 8. Heat 18 was top class speedway fought out between all 4, ending in a very close finish.

Kitchen in heat 3 and Grosskreutz in heat 16 remained stranded at the start when the tapes rose.
Max came down in heat 3 when battling wheel to wheel with Tom FarnDon.
This was a very exciting match for the Belle Vue fans who seldom saw their boys really pushed at home in 1935.

For the first time in the history of the National Trophy (commenced 1931) Wembley would not be in the Final.
Tiger Stevenson and his partner both fell in heat 16 and were spread eagled across the track. Neither moved and the race was stopped.
Both riders soon came out for the rerun and seemed completely unhurt. There was a storm of barracking from the home fans who obviously felt that the Hammers were up to dirty tricks. The rerun was a classic battle and tempers cooled down amidst the cheering.

After winning heat 2 convincingly Arthur Warwick had his motor blow comprehensively in heat 4 and withdrew from the match. The match was close and exciting and Hammers fans went home feeling a bit unlucky in losing several good positions due to falls.

The Stratford Express published some interesting crowd figures. In the first 16 matches at West Ham in 1935 the total attendance was 360,291. This gives an average figure of 22,518. This may be a bit more accurate than the round figure guesses usually published at the time.

Heat 1 was rerun twice. The first attempt saw Stevenson leading from Langton. Eric crashed and Arthur Atkinson brilliantly avoided him but came down and broke his ankle. Stobart in for Atkinson. Away they went again with Stevenson once more in the lead. This time it was Bob Harrison who crashed and Rol Stobart injured his thigh in laying his bike down. Dell in for Stobart and the race was completed this time. Heat 2 was also stopped when Joe Abbott hit the fence and needed medical help. Joe was in the rerun but had a puncture. Joe again had a bad fall in heat 18 that cracked his helmet. Joe was carried off badly shaken and dazed.
